Introduction

The NHS England Insight Network was formed in 2016. It is co-ordinated by the Insight & Feedback Team, who oversee a range of national surveys and feedback mechanisms for the NHS.

Almost 1000 people – from subject experts to people with a basic professional interest in insight - have already joined.

The aims of the network are to:

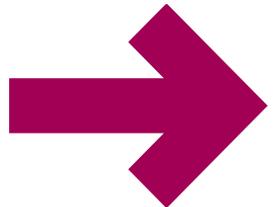

- Share news and information about insight;
- Nurture understanding and use of insight information to drive service improvements across the NHS;
- Provide a hub to share local information and good practice.

Objectives for insight?

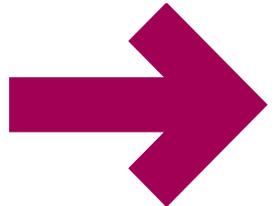

You can find out more online about NHS England's objectives for developing the use of insight across the NHS and you can also access insight resources such as our bite-size guides and links to national surveys and other tools.

See: <https://www.england.nhs.uk/ourwork/insight/>

Member benefits

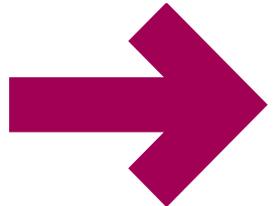

- Monthly updates by email from the Insight & Feedback Team, including a calendar of insight events for the year
- Links to new publications, such as survey findings and bite-size guides
- Invitations to occasional events and webinars to share learning and improve skills
- Opportunities to showcase local insight and good practice
- A channel to seek information from, or partnership with, other members to reduce duplication and costs of research

Getting involved

You can get further involved, if you want to, by:

- Sharing your local research and analysis of insight information with other members;
- Being an insight “champion”, actively promoting the use of insight in your organisation and cascading national information to colleagues;
- Helping the Insight & Feedback Team to organise events in your area;
- Undertaking other work on behalf of the network, such as setting up a regional group to increase local co-operation and collaboration.

How do I join?

If you would like to join the network, please email:

england.insight-queries@nhs.net

We will ask all new members to fill out a questionnaire. As well as providing basic information about you, your responses will help us to tailor the information we provide and understand how much you want to get involved.

Thank you for your interest. We look forward to hearing from you!
